

HOME HAPPENINGS.

—Messes are reported at the residence of John Harroff on Lisbon street.

—Local young people enjoyed a Halloween dance in town hall last Saturday night.

—Council met Monday night but aside from passing the pay ordinance little business was transacted.

—It is said that an up-to-date restaurant is to be opened in the building formerly occupied by the White store.

—A number from this locality attended the Mardi Gras celebration in Salem Monday night and great doings are reported.

—Hear the Lyric Glee Club in College Chapel next Wednesday night. This is the second number of the lecture course.

—The young ladies' class of the Disciple church will give a merriment supper in town hall this (Friday) evening from 8 to 9. Expense, 15c.

—What is known as the Lowrie residence on South Broad street, owned by R. G. Sykes, is being painted. R. W. Stafford doing the work.

—The Laurel range demonstration at The Manchester Co. store, advertised in the Dispatch last week and again today, is attracting much attention.

—Weather conditions last Sunday were ideal for automobile driving and many people from neighboring cities and towns visited Canfield while out for a spin in the afternoon.

—Communion services were held at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning when eight persons united with the church, four by letter and four by confession of faith.

—No murder was not committed in Canfield Tuesday night, but several figures hanging from trees in the park Wednesday morning indicated that something had been doing.

—The next number of the college lecture course will be given next Wednesday night, the attraction being The Lyric Glee Club. As this organization is highly recommended a pleasant evening is anticipated.

—Last Saturday evening Miss Sarepta Shafer was given a surprise masquerade party at her home 21 miles north of the village in honor of her birthday. The guests numbered seventy-five and a most pleasurable evening was spent.

—A note received from W. S. Rowe of Ravenna, former pastor of the local M. E. Church, says: "We have a great church here and are enjoying the work. Our reception was so cordial that we soon felt at home. The Dispatch is a welcome visitor."

—Prof. J. B. Bowman of Mt. Union college, former president of the N. E. O. N. C., just recovering from an operation for appendicitis, was taken suddenly ill Sunday and suffered intense pain, his condition causing friends much alarm. He is now unable to sit up.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Manchester will on Monday next celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. A considerable number of invitations have been issued but the guest list will be largely confined to relatives.

—Work is rapidly progressing on the new infirmary building being erected to take the place of the men's department destroyed by fire last January, a large force of hands being employed. It is not expected that the structure will be completed until late in February.

—Surveyors were at work Monday on the strip of road between the Corbett and Lynn streets in this township and Coy Bros., who have the contract, will shortly begin active operations and hope to have the road well along to completion before weather conditions become too unfavorable to keep busy.

—Halloween falling on Sunday this year, Young America took advantage of the opportunity to celebrate Saturday, Sunday and Monday night. Numerous mischievous pranks were played, but so far as learned no great damage was done. In the rural districts about the same order obtained. In several localities numerous rail fences were built across roads, making trouble for people driving the highways.

—The Canfield Township Sunday School convention held last Sunday afternoon in the M. E. Church was largely attended and many matters of importance in religious work were discussed. V. C. Thompson of Youngstown was present and gave an interesting address. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. D. D. Burt; vice-president, Dr. J. H. Schnurberger; secretary, Miss Blanche Calhoun; treasurer, Ray Parshall.

—The Normal college lecture course was opened last Friday night by Dr. A. A. Willis, and as was expected, his lecture was one of the best ever heard here. Dr. Willis is a grand old man, being now in his 89th year. He has been a minister and lecturer for more than 60 years, and in that time has done a world of good. He scatters sunshine and teaches right living in a manner that appeals to every listener. He emphasizes "Keep your heart right and look on the bright side of everything." This is the Doctor's last season on the lecture platform.

—At the election of directors of the Mahoning County Agricultural Society, held in Canfield Wednesday, W. J. Dickson of Canfield, R. S. Hawkins of Berlin, T. L. Knapp of Canfield and George Ryder of Youngstown were elected to serve three years. The first three are old members and Mr. Ryder takes the place of J. S. Price of Youngstown, who resigned. There was no contest this year, only the four gentlemen named being voted for. About $1,000 was paid in premiums as much or more is still to be distributed. The affairs of the society are in a very satisfactory condition, the receipts of this year's fair more than paying last year's indebtedness and this fall's expenses.

MILLIGAN SAYS GUILTY

M. R. Milligan, the contractor against whom six indictments were returned by the special grand jury, appeared before Judge C. E. Robinson in common pleas court at Youngstown late Wednesday afternoon and entered a plea of guilty to all charges against him.

L. H. Young, another contractor who was indicted, is being tried before Judge Robinson and the case is being bitterly fought.

LOCAL ELECTION RESULTS

At the election in Canfield Tuesday, voters were handed four tickets when they appeared to exercise the right of suffrage. A large vote was polled in both village and township. In several instances candidates had no opposition and naturally they were little concerned in soliciting support. The chief interest centered in the election of township trustees, some feeling having been engendered as a result of the road improvement question, or rather which roads should be macadamized. The question seemed to resolve itself into whether the old board of trustees, with one exception, should be endorsed for its official road acts of the past few months, or a new deal was desired, and the old board won nearly two to one. In the village the election, however, seemed to obtain, as the result shows. Only one member of the old council, J. V. Calvin, will be a member of the new. Following is a summary of the vote in village and township:
